The gloom in the Red Sox camp last night was thick enough to cut with a shife. Owner Taylor and Manager Donovan cannot account for the club's poor showing here the past two days, and unless better work is shown to-day a wholesule shake-up is expected.

Bonton opened the game by sending Hooper around the bags. Gardner led off by reaching first on Henry's error, but was put out trying to steal second by Street's perfect throw to McBride. Hooper walked and woord a minute later, when Speaker's vicious drive to left field got away from Lelivelt.
